

You asked for it!

Nora Roberts

In the past year, Nora Roberts has had three titles in the top 15 most checked out books and was among the most popular authors in the library. Here are a few books you might like to read if you like Nora Roberts.

Suzanne Brockmann writes Military Romances you might like if you like Roberts' Romantic Suspense. Brockmann has bad boy heroes, developed romances, and fast-paced, and action-filled storylines. You may want to start with The Unsung Hero the first in the Team Sixteen Series.

Sandra Brown writes Suspense with complex, fast-paced stories that include action, adventure, smart heroines, sex, and violence along with romantic entanglements.

Christine Freehan is best known for her vampire novels. But you may like her Drake Sisters Series that includes some magical elements but is mostly a paranormal romantic suspense elements. Try the first novel, Magic in the Wind.

Julie Garwood writes Romantic Suspense novels that often blend romance and humor with thriller elements. She writes using detailed characterization with a tightly controlled pace that allows readers get to know the characters and still feel the suspense.

Kay Hooper has written in almost all sub-genres of Romance and beyond, offering readers interesting characters, intriguing plots filled with satisfying twists, a measure of humor, and a decidedly romantic tone. For an interesting paranormal mystery romance you may want to try Stealing Shadows.

Jayne Ann Krentz writes Romantic Suspense. Her most recent is All Night Long, about uncovering the truth among secrets. If you like paranormal elements you may want to try the Whispering Springs novels.

Robin D. Owens writes Romantic Fantasy in her Summoning Series. The heroes strive to fight against evil with strong characters and suspenseful action' all of which takes place in an interesting world.

JoAnn Ross writes about relationships in her steamy Contemporary Love stories. Career women, and bad boy heroes often shape the stories. Ross describes the landscape of the novel and really creates a world for the reader to enjoy. You may want to start with Out of the Mist the first in the Stewart Sisters Trilogy. For a more suspenseful story try River Road from the Callahan Brothers Trilogy.

Anne Stuart writes using darker elements and mixes compelling characters with elements of suspense and the paranormal. Her Ice Thrillers Series features dangerous heroes and interesting heroines.

